This is the modifier screen. You can edit pre-existing modifiers, add new ones, or copy existing ones. To “Edit” a pre-existing modifier, simply use the “Edit” button next to the modifier. To add a new one, you can use the “Add” button on the top right. In this example, a new modifier will be created using “Add”.

This is the Modifier Edit screen. From here, you can name the modifier, change the modifier type, set min / max selections, set free values, add the actual modifier choices, and more. To keep things simple, we will add a “Burger Toppings” modifier. Some of our choices will have prices, and some will not.

To set modifiers, check off the “Override modifiers from Global” check box. Keeping this disabled will have the item / category inherit the modifiers of its parent category. (i.e., if “Burger” was in a “Food” category, we would be overriding any modifiers that are set on the “Food” category).

After that box is checked off, two boxes will appear with “Non selected” and “Selected” modifiers. The “Non selected” modifiers on the left displays all modifiers in the system that are not actively on the selected item / category. Modifiers can be activated on an item / category by selecting them in the “Non selected” list, and pressing the arrow in the middle pointing to the “Selected” box.

Once you are done you can hit "Save".

IMPORTANT NOTE: The "Automatic Modifier Screen" dropdown box will need to be set to "Yes" if you want the modifier screen to pop-up immediately after adding the item to an invoice, rather than needing to be pulled up manually through the "Modify" button.
